

LBPA TODAY

Information Update for Lansdowne Business and Professional Association Members

It's Your LBPA Today... Put it to Work for You!

The LBPA Today is back from summer vacation, and this first issue comes with hope that everyone had a safe, fun and successful couple of months. New LBPA President Fran Wayne is excited to help guide the LBPA through 2001-2002 year. You can read about Fran's plans in her letter on the reverse.

If you've been thinking about attending an LBPA meeting but haven't gotten around to it, there's no better time to start than with our September meeting. Not only will the meeting feature a delicious meal from Baltimore Junction Café, but Fran and the other LBPA Officers will have plenty of exciting news to discuss. Get out and make a difference. Your participation in the LBPA is what makes our association so special.

Finally, if you have news about your business that you want to appear in this space, let us know. Send an e-mail with your news item to lbpa@hoffcomm.com
